Dear Brothers and Sisters,

My family and I were still living in Belgium when I flew from Brussels to Minneapolis/St. Paul to deliver five talks entitled A Crisis of Truth. The year was 1980. During the four years we lived in Belgium, I had become increasingly aware that there were a lot of things being published by theologians and popular writers that seriously departed from the faith. They not only departed from the faith but were influencing many ordinary Catholics to do the same. A widespread skepticism about the reliability and authority of Sacred Scripture was pervading the worldwide Church. More and more real evangelization was being dismissed in favor of what was considered really meaningful—human development and social justice. There was a virtual assault on traditional sexual morality. And in the midst of it all was a widespread episcopal silence, with occasional indirect nods in the direction of, “Well this is what the Church teaches, but follow your own conscience.” Many interpreted this feeble teaching as permission to do what they wanted to do. In many dioceses and many countries, this undermining of faith, morality, and mission was being tolerated or even actively advanced by something like a “fifth column” within the Church. People were being appointed and protected in key positions on seminary and university theological faculties who were leading purveyors of the confusion.

I must say that when I traveled back to the US to give these talks, I felt that I was being commissioned by the Lord to do so. I realized that besides my own study and observation, I was being assisted by the Holy Spirit to identify and communicate issues that were really important for the salvation of souls and the true renewal of the Church. I thought that if I could just successfully complete this mission—and deliver these five talks—that perhaps my mission in life would be accomplished. The very strong response to the talks and the subsequent initiatives that many took to make sure this message was widely promulgated made me think that indeed my mission was accomplished. Somewhat to my surprise, it wasn't! A lot has happened over the past forty years! And still is happening!

I was being assisted by the Holy Spirit to identify and communicate issues that were really important for the salvation of souls and the true renewal of the Church.

It is precisely the existence of sin that modern man is unable to take seriously. Because of this rejection of the concept of sin, no one is touched today by the Gospel claim that the evidence of Jesus' divine nature is based on his power to forgive sin. Hardly anyone seriously thinks nowadays that men's wrong actions may offend God and that he alone can forgive them. Even theologians have discussed replacing confession with conversations with psychologists! Sin has disappeared and with it forgiveness. And behind that disappearance is a God who is forever turned to man.”

//Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI

Out of those talks came a video series, a book, a weekly television program at the request of Mother Angelica of EWTN, a deep and enduring relationship with Fr. Michael Scanlan, my first contact with Peter Herbeck, and the birth of Renewal Ministries. It's been an amazing forty years!

But in the last several years, many problems that are either the same as or similar to those I addressed forty years ago are back again, bringing with them even greater polarization in the Church and obvious institutional collapse. How many thousands of schools, parishes, and seminaries have closed over the last forty years and continue to close! How many dioceses have gone bankrupt and continue to go bankrupt! How many scandals can we take? A number of people who have recently reread the book version of A Crisis of Truth: The Attack on Faith, Morality and Mission in the Catholic Church have found it very relevant to what we are facing today and have encouraged me to republish it.

When I reread it, I thought it would take too much work and would need to be greatly revised to update the examples and the new cultural situation we are facing in the Church and in the world. But then the Lord gave me a “nudge.” I knew it was Him, and I knew I should do it, but I didn't know how I would have the time. And then came the Coronavirus. Suddenly, all my travel was canceled for many months, and I had time. During these lockdown months, I have been able to write virtually a new book, which I think accurately addresses the many confusions we are facing right now. It is called A Church in Crisis: Pathways Forward and it is currently available for preorder at a special discount for readers of this newsletter. We anticipate delivery and direct purchase options to happen in October 2020.

I think this book will be of help to you and yours as you navigate the choppy waters of today's Church and culture.

Let me know what you think!

Your brother in Christ,

Ralph Martin

P.S. Another blessing of the lockdown months is that I have been able to engage in a significant way in our YouTube Channel, and I have been amazed at the growth expressed by those who are consistently watching our weekly videos! We have been hearing regularly from people whose faith has been strengthened by this growing outreach from Renewal Ministries. Their feedback is so encouraging to us, that we are sharing some of it on pages four and five of this newsletter. We hope you also are inspired to listen even more closely to the Lord and to give Him even more of your “yes” during this time and in the days to come.

Please Pray...

FOR all of the students, teachers, and staff who have returned to school, in all the various forms that is taking this year. May the Lord protect their health and multiply their efforts.

FOR all of those struggling with depression or loneliness, that the Lord will bring them strength and healing.

FOR the prayer intentions of all our supporters and their family members, especially as they face the challenges of illness and economic uncertainty.

A CHURCH IN CRISIS: PATHWAYS FORWARD

Nearly forty years ago, Ralph Martin's bestselling A Crisis of Truth exposed the damaging trends in Catholic teaching and preaching that, combined with attacks from secular society, threatened the mission and life of the Catholic Church. While much has been done to counter false teaching over the last four decades, today the Church faces even more insidious threats.

A Church in Crisis: Pathways Forward offers a detailed look at the growing hostility to the Catholic Church and its teaching. Ralph uncovers the forces working to undermine the Body of Christ and offers hope to those looking for clarity.

A Church in Crisis covers:

- » Polarization in the Church caused by ambiguous teachings
- » Initiatives that accommodate the culture without calling for conversion
- » Vatican-sponsored partnerships with organizations that actively contradict Church teaching
- » The recycling of theological errors long settled by Vatican II, Pope St. John Paul II, and Pope Benedict XVI.

Powerfully written, A Church in Crisis reminds all readers to heed Jesus' express command not to lead His children astray. With ample resources to encourage readers, Ralph provides the solid foundation of Catholic teaching—both Scripture and Tradition—to fortify Catholics against the errors that threaten us from all directions and offers hope filled pathways to a renewed Church.

“ In this book Dr. Martin is squarely facing the serious crisis that is unfolding both in the Church and in the culture. He does so in an honest but fair manner and offers solutions that, if implemented, would do a great deal to restore health and strength to the Church, and allow it to be the light to the world it is meant to be. An important book that should be widely read.”

Cardinal Gerhard L. Müller
Former Prefect of the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith

“ It is impossible to deny the crisis of division and widespread confusion that characterizes the Church in our day. Nor can anyone who loves the Church ignore the strong theological undercurrents that Dr. Martin identifies, currents that try to separate what cannot be legitimately divided: pastoral charity from revealed truth. This is an important book well worth reading.”

Bishop Scott McCaig, CC
Military Ordinary of Canada

“ This book is a massive achievement. Ralph Martin is one of the most reliable analysts of the state of the Church. He is brave and bold, outspoken but never snarky or alarmist. Some of his chapters, such that on culpability, shed fresh light on some of the most debilitating confusions of our age. This book will be the go-to book for those who want a comprehensive view of the crisis in the Church today.”

Janet Smith | Author of Self-Gift: Humanae Vitae and the Thought of John Paul II

“ Ralph Martin's remarkable book provides an extraordinary opportunity to engage in a self-examination of our 'own faithfulness to Christ's will for the Church and accordingly to undertake with vigor the task of renewal and reform' (Vatican II, Unitatis Redintegratio 4) . . . His book simply could not have come at a better time.”

Eduardo J. Echeverria
Professor of Philosophy and Systematic Theology, Sacred Heart Major Seminary

“ The crisis of truth is back. An unblinking analysis of these toxic threats to the Church is once again desperately needed, but while many have provided elements of such an analysis, few have proffered so sweeping an evaluation while retaining admirable balance and evincing heartfelt love for the Church. Yet Dr. Martin goes further still in this book, which I do not hesitate to call prophetic. He points the way forward by holding fast to Scripture, rejecting the rationalization of sin and the false security of universalism, and recommending the proven remedies of repentance and reliance on the power of the Holy Spirit.”

Fr. Peter Ryan, SJ
Professor of Theology, Director of Spiritual Formation, Sacred Heart Major Seminary, Former Executive Director USCCB Committee on Doctrine

“ The Catholic Church is in deep crisis. It doesn't take a genius to see that. However, to present an accurate and synthetic picture of the crisis, to identify its roots, and to indicate the path forward takes more than a genius: it takes a man filled with the Spirit of God. Ralph Martin is just such a person, and his new book is fire alarm, tonic and fresh air all wrapped into one.”

Msgr. Andrew McLean Cummings
Director of Spiritual Formation, Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, Maryland

"A VITAL SOURCE OF TRUTH & HOPE"

Lately, we have been hearing from many people who are grateful for the YouTube videos and other faith-building outreach Renewal Ministries has provided during the pandemic. We are sharing some of these encouraging words below, because without you, our faithful friends and supporters, none of this would be possible.

THANK YOU!

God bless you for your wonderful work! I have been so blessed to find the beautiful videos on YouTube. The videos from Ralph and Peter have particularly added some peace in my soul during this tumultuous time.

Thank you for opening the Word of God for your followers during these challenging, but grace-filled times. I look forward to your weekly recaps. I pray you continue to receive the eyes to read the signs of the times.

After listening to a couple of your YouTube videos, I want to say how inspired you have kept me in my faith. I love to watch your segments on EWTN. I appreciate your segments; they inspire me to keep close to the Lord.

I watched your video on Fr. Scanlan's prophecy; wow! In my prayer, I feel that you are right on, there are aspects of that prophecy being fulfilled during this time . . . You mentioned the need to return to house churches. At the beginning of the lockdown, I (a priest) felt a powerful movement of the Spirit inviting me to celebrate house Masses with families who invited me and to which, through prayer, I discerned the Spirit was leading me. Although this flew in the face of the possible risks involved, I felt strongly that I was being led to the houses where I was meant to go. I celebrated dozens of these all with the end in mind of planting some powerful sacramental and spiritual grace to help these families do exactly what you mentioned—live as a domestic church and live faithfully and dynamically as a Catholic family without the assistance of external structures. I believe this Spirit-led and inspired apostolate helps to increase the confirmation of this already powerful prophecy.

I couldn't thank you enough for all the goodness, joy, holiness, and ever-increased desire to love the Lord alone that all your videos have brought to our hearts and lives. The Lord is calling ever-so loudly with his resounding voice through you all.

Nine months ago, I was widowed and now live alone for the first time in my life. The grief, virus, isolation, and closed church took a toll on me, leaving me wondering how to be a Catholic with no Eucharist, no visiting the sick and elderly, no family, no fellowship, and no street evangelization. The Word and the rosary were my lifelines in the storm, but hope seemed elusive until this prophecy showed up. Thank you for your faithful witness. May God reorder my loves and empower me to do whatever He desires.

Speaking of amazing . . . the prophecy you found from Fr. Mike Scanlan! I cannot tell you how much it meant to me to read that, in light of what has been happening all around us recently! I know that God knows everything, but I needed to “hear” in black-and-white, verbally, that He did indeed know, forty-four years ago, what we would be facing today! Thank you for your upcoming book; thank you for so diligently researching for it that you found Fr. Mike's prophecy, and thank you for sharing it with all of us!

Thank you for this word. I think you have hit the nail squarely on the head. A couple of years ago, I announced to my students that this cannot be “business as usual” any more. The sin, the video games, silliness, and even sports need to no longer have central place in our lives. Now I'm telling students that they will be BADLY needed, when the bottom falls out, to share sanity (faith) with terrified people. Thank you for seeing the urgency of the moment.

I want to say a hearty thank you for all your hard work—writing books, newsletters, making videos and radio and TV programs. I so appreciate the “Weekly Messages,” especially in our present battle against the lies of the enemy. We need your faithful call to remain focused on Jesus. I listen to Fire on the Earth every day as well. Renewal Ministries is a vital source of truth and hope for us Catholics who need to be ready to respond to the Holy Spirit in our individual “spheres of influence.”

Thank you for sharing your gift of igniting others in their faith. This is the talk I will share with the family after Sunday breakfast tomorrow. We take turns choosing something to teach each other regarding the faith. Tomorrow is my day—I choose this talk. With gratitude, from Canada.

I give thanks for you and pray for your ministry daily. You are such a gift to the Church, and especially to the Body of Christ here on earth.

This word rings so very true in my heart. In fact, the substance of this word has been in my heart, though without the clarity of expression, for months. I am challenged to be more deeply converted and not to waste any time on secondary matters. I am excited to be living these times, because our dear Lord always provides for the needs of his people, and clearly the needs are great at this time!

Thank you so much. I was feeling downcast last night because of the pandemic, but this has encouraged me so much. “Be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.”

I remember enjoying your talks on Crossing the Goal, and this was another great message on what greatness really is as lived out by our Lord, total surrender and trust in the Father. God bless you and your ministry!

Thank you for continuing to provide us with encouragement with the YouTube videos and sustaining us while we are deprived of the Eucharist. Thank you for encouraging us with your strong words and the witness of your lives!

I am blessed to be on your mailing list to receive your newsletter. I look forward to it each month. It has been especially important to me, and many others, as I see from their correspondence, during this unprecedented time we are living through. You are spreading the Good News of our Lord with insight, clarity, and truth during this time of chaos. . . . What you are doing is having a real impact on many people. Thank you for not being afraid to speak the Truth that leads many people, myself included, closer to Him.

Help Keep the VOICE OF TRUTH ALIVE!

A REQUEST FROM RALPH MARTIN:

This year, Renewal Ministries celebrates its fortieth anniversary of trying to communicate the message of the Gospel. We have the longest-running Catholic television program on EWTN, thirty-five years. We've got two daily Catholic radio programs. We're doing mission work in more than forty countries. We've published countless booklets, books, DVDs, CDs, MP3s, MP4s. We have a Facebook presence. We've really upped our YouTube Channel in the last six months, and the Lord is using it in major ways!

We're trying to be a clear, faithful voice that mirrors what Jesus is speaking to us, and we're trying to pass it on with the anointing of the Holy Spirit that we believe He's offering to all of us.

During this time of economic shakeup, some of our donors haven't been able to continue their typical levels of support. I know many of you are facing economic uncertainty. I also know many of you are supporting tremendously worthwhile ministries in your parishes, and we don't want to take away anything from what you are doing. But if you've got any extra crumbs that you could pass on to us, if the Lord has blessed you with any kind of abundance right now, that you'd like to share with us so we can continue doing what the Lord has called us to do, we would be very grateful.

TO DONATE, GO TO:
www.renewalministries.net/donate

Any amount helps us keep doing what we're doing, and even do it better, and even do it more.

Thank you very much for being with us. Thank you very much for following Jesus. Thank you very much for all the ways in which you share your faith with others.

Because I Love You...

REFLECTIONS ON RALPH MARTIN'S 1975 PROPHECY

— Peter Herbeck —

These are trying and challenging times, but God has a great purpose for this hour for the Church and the salvation of the world. I'd like to reflect on a prophecy Ralph Martin gave in 1975 after the closing Mass at the International Catholic Charismatic Renewal Conference in Rome:

Because I love you, I want to show you what I am doing in the world today. I want to prepare you for what is to come. Days of darkness are coming on the world, days of tribulation. . . . Buildings that are now standing will not be standing. Supports that are there for my people now will not be there. I want you to be prepared, my people, to know only Me and to cleave to Me and to have Me in a way deeper than ever before. I will lead you into the desert. . . . I will strip you of everything that you are depending on now, so you depend just on Me. A time of darkness is coming on the world, but a time of glory is coming for my Church, a time of glory is coming for my people. I will pour out on you all the gifts of my Spirit. I will prepare you for spiritual combat; I will prepare you for a time of evangelism that the world has never seen. . . . And when you have nothing but Me, you will have everything: land, fields, homes, and brothers and sisters, and love, and joy, and peace more than ever before. Be ready, my people, I want to prepare you."

It's wonderful that it begins, "Because I love you." In the Old Testament, God reveals his secrets to the prophets. He lets key prophetic people bring encouragement to his Church, to help them see what the Lord is doing.

"Days of darkness are coming on the world, days of tribulation."

People have experienced this since 1975, but we are living in one of the most unique periods in the history of the world and the Church. With the Coronavirus, the whole world shut down in response to this unseen enemy that was taking life, and it looked like lives were going to be taken in huge numbers. Humanity was forced to confront its own mortality. The devil tries to enslave the human race through the fear of death, and he also wanted to enslave the world in the grip of fear. Our businesses shut down, the quarantine happened, and our economy went from the strongest in the world to near-collapse. Our confidence in our health, security, and the rest—that was shaken.

And just as we came out of quarantine, George Floyd's death caused a nuclear bomb to go off, in terms of the response around the world. It touched a deep, unhealed wound in the United States' history and culture. Some people responded appropriately, but there was also the spirit of anarchy, revolution, disordered spirits, and a whole lot of shaking in the security we have in the government, in our finances, in our health, in the future, in politics and politicians, and in news organizations that used to be trusted many years ago.

This prophecy reveals He's shaking the nations, because many are clinging to things that are contingent. Hebrews 12 tells us the only thing unshakeable is God. The Lord is allowing these trials to get our attention. The Lord is drawing his people and his Church close to Him, and the prophecy talks about it in those very terms:

"Days of darkness are coming on the world, days of tribulation. . . . Buildings that are now standing will not be standing. Supports that are there for my people now will not be there. I want you to be prepared, my people, to know only Me and to cleave to Me and to have Me in a way deeper than ever before."

Why these trials? The world acts as if God doesn't exist—when we were made by God and for God. The only place we can come to safety is in God Himself. He's offered us salvation in his Son—but in more and more ways, people are falling away from the Church, partly because the Lord has permitted the sins of the compromise of the Church to be exposed. The Lord wants his body to cling to Him instead of other kinds of security, distraction, or comfort.

To belong to God with all your heart, soul, mind, and strength, and to love your neighbor as yourself, as Jesus said in the Last Supper Discourse (Jn 13:1-17)—this is what He calls us to. If you pay attention, He's going to live in you and refresh you. He's going to speak to you, and He's going to lead you to all truth, and so we must follow Him.

"The Lord is allowing these trials to get our attention."

"I want you to be prepared, my people, to know only Me and to cleave to Me and to have Me in a way deeper than ever before. I will lead you into the desert."

That's where we've been for the last number of months, and we may, in one way or another, be staying there. Things are unfolding, and we're trying to get the economy going again, but there's a lot of responsibility more and more people are carrying. Whatever burden you might carry, remember as we go forward that the Lord has called us to draw near. No matter how busy or challenged things are, stay in conversation with the Lord. Pay attention to Him—because what matters most is the word that He has for us. The Church itself is going to stay under the redemptive discipline of a loving God who's seeking to purify his Church and draw it near.

Hebrews 12 says, "The Lord's discipline is on those He loves." Why? He wants to produce peaceful fruit of righteousness in us and bring us back to right relationship with Him. He wants to expose our hearts so we can humbly bow down before Him and pay attention, even if we only do it a few minutes a day. Don't let the responsibilities and the pressure push the Lord to the margins. The key—for us individually, for our families, for the whole Church, for the salvation of the world—is to pay attention now, to become radically His.

"Cleave to Me."

We're not to cleave to these other things. The Lord is exposing their emptiness and how quickly they can be gone. But He's there forever. He's the rock upon which we stand—the only unshakable reality in all of existence—and He's come for us. He wants us to live from a place of security, and lean on Him, and know where He is going, so we can read the signs of the times and respond to what the Spirit is saying to the Church.

"I will strip you of everything that you are depending on now, so you depend just on me."

This is a word for each of us, the entire Church. The Lord is leading us into this because of what's coming.

"A time of darkness is coming on the world, but a time of glory is coming for my Church."

Both things are happening. Both will continue to escalate—the challenge and the darkness. There's a way in which the world will never be the same. We'll never go back, exactly, to what we had. The intensity of the spiritual battle will increase. But as the grace of God increases in us and the glory of the Lord is revealed in our hearts through the Holy Spirit, we can see the majesty, and we can have the wisdom and insight into the Lord, and we ourselves will be strengthened. We're going to experience more of Him, and He wants us to know that we don't have to be afraid. No matter how much shaking goes on, the Lord's got this end game in mind. He's right there with us, and all He needs is for us to walk with Him, and surrender, and give Him everything in our lives.

"A time of darkness is coming on the world, but a time of glory is coming for my Church, a time of glory is coming for my people. I will pour out on you all the gifts of my Spirit. I will prepare you for spiritual combat; I will prepare you for a time of evangelism that the world has never seen."

He's pouring into all who surrender and walk in Him, all who come under his loving order and discipline. He's leading us to align our lives to love the first thing first—because God wants to fulfill with great glory the purpose for which each of us was made. He's saying,

"You don't trust me yet. Let me expose the fear that's in you, the insecurity, the attachment to idols. Let me remove it so you can hear my voice, and have the strength of the Spirit at work in you, and bear my fruits. The days are coming when the grace for a profound global evangelism is coming on the earth."

In 1990, I was praying with a team of people that included Ralph. When someone shared a prophetic word, the Holy Spirit came down in tremendous power, and I had one of the most significant experiences of my life. I felt the Holy Spirit, and I was just shaking. I glimpsed the Lord on his throne, and He stood up and said,

"I've risen from my throne to proceed my coming. There will be a revelation of the Son of Man in your lifetime."

Then He took a step forward, and I just experienced holy, pure fear of God. I shouted, "Oh, my God! He's so awesome! He's so glorious! He's so amazing!" It's one of the guiding things I've believed deeply in my bones since that day.

That was a moment in my life when God really broke in, and I think Ralph's prophecy confirms it.

"Evangelism that the world has never seen."

That's what this is all about. The key is to be surrendered and attentive to the Lord, because it's all about Him. In his time, and in his way, as He leads us through purification, He's going to increase his light, his glory, his presence, and his power. He's going to reveal Himself.

BECAUSE I LOVE YOU...

Peter Herbeck's Reflections on Ralph Martin's 1975 Prophecy

The answer for the Church and the world isn't more strategy or higher IQs. It isn't going to the right college, it isn't our tech power, it's not our bank account. All these things are totally secondary. God made the world through his Son. He enthroned Him and set Him at his right hand. All authority, power, and the destiny of human life are in the hands of the King. The apostles said, "Judgment has been given over to the Son" (Jn 5:22)—final judgment, but also judgment at this time, when He comes with tough love. Whatever it takes to get rid of things that hinder God's love—He'll do it.

What stands in the way of our receiving and walking in his love and commandments? We must face our fears and our compromises, and bow low in humility and say, "Lord, Father, send the Son. Reveal your glory in the Church and in the world."

This is the heart of what God is doing. He wants each of us to be a part of it. There's no one too small. This is not about elites and experts going out. This is the children of God crying out to Him. When his glory is revealed, part of what happens is the fear of the Lord—not a slavish fear, but a cleansing, purifying fear that orders us—and we see God in his greatness, and people in the world being converted, and the Church getting purified. The Church has tried in so many ways to make it all happen, and the Lord is leading us to experience our powerlessness. So many of our efforts fall flat: people leave the Church, fewer people give money to dioceses and parishes in financial crisis, etc. It's happening in many places around the world. The Lord is allowing it—until we say, like this prophecy, "draw near," and we see Him, and we say,

"I don't know what I was thinking,

why I was relying on so many other things.

Lord, I give You my life.

I'm all in. Let's go."

Let's say "yes" to Him.
Let's bow down and say,

"Lord, re-order my loves.

Let me love You at the center of my life.

I give You everything:

my time, talent, and treasure.

Change my heart.

Change my mind.

Let me live in the power and the presence of the Holy Spirit."
